MEET Marlene

At KenCCID, we believe every individual deserves opportunities to grow, connect, and enjoy meaningful experiences that bring purpose and joy to everyday life.

For Marlene, that journey has been shaped through person-centered support, community involvement, and meaningful social connections.

Before finding the right opportunities for engagement, Marlene had fewer ways to participate in activities she truly enjoyed. Today, her life looks very different.

With support from KenCCID, Marlene enjoys visiting Hobby Lobby, participating in arts & crafts, attending community events, and spending time socializing with others. These experiences help keep her active, connected, and engaged in the world around her while also building confidence, friendships, and independence.

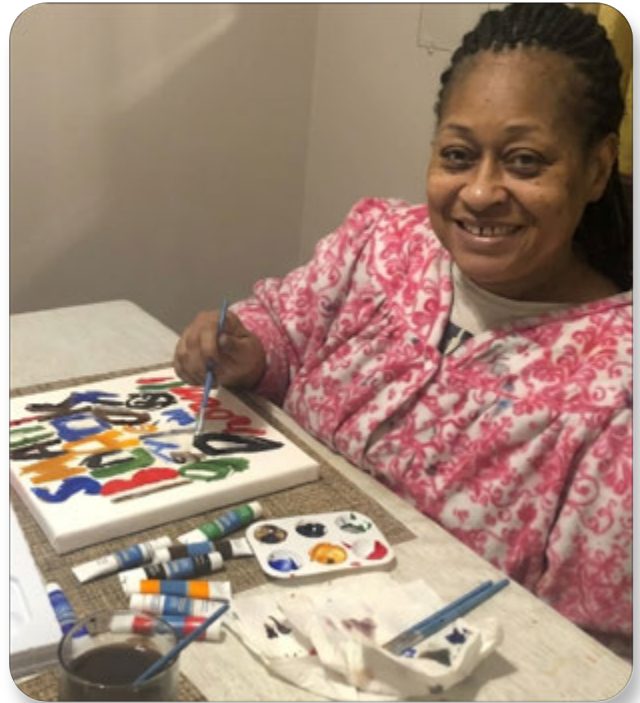

At KenCCID, we understand that success looks different for everyone. For Marlene, success is about creating a life filled with joy, meaningful experiences, and connection with others.

Part of that connection comes from opportunities like KenCCID's Advisory Board — a welcoming forum where individuals can share their thoughts, ideas, concerns, and goals in a supportive environment. The Advisory Board encourages individuals to take an active role in shaping their lives and to have their voices heard throughout the organization.

The board was created to empower individuals receiving services to openly discuss what matters most to them and help strengthen person-centered care throughout KenCCID. Members elect their own officers each year, creating leadership opportunities and encouraging self-advocacy.

Beyond leadership, the Advisory Board creates opportunities for friendships, activities, laughter, and community — something that reflects the heart of KenCCID's mission.

Everything we do centers around helping individuals discover their voice, build confidence, create meaningful relationships, and reach their full potential.
